DETAILED ACTION

Response to Amendment

The reply filed on 12/15/2006 consists of remarks related to the prior rejection of claims in the previous Office Action. The above have been entered and considered. However, pending claims 1-8, 16-30, and 33-36 are not allowable as explained below.

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the “right to exclude” granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 1-3, 16-18, 21-23, and 29-36 are rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1 and 6 of previously cited U.S. Patent No. 6817915 to Kyogaku et al ("Kyogaku").

Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because claims 1-3 of the instant application recite a method for manufacturing an electron-emitting device, comprising the same limitations as recited in Kyogaku, with the exception of 1) Applicant's polymer film including a "carbon atomic bond" and 2) Kyogaku specifically recites that the light absorptance of the wirings is lower than that of the electrodes. However, 1) Kyogaku's specification has been used to define certain terms in the claims, specifically, the term, "polymer" has been defined as "one having at least a bond between carbon atoms." Therefore, one of ordinary skill in the art will appreciate that Applicant's carbon atomic bond is indeed recited in Kyogaku's claims. Furthermore, 2) one of ordinary skill in the art would be able to the device of Kyogaku without any regard to the light absorptance of the wirings, since this appears to have no structural bearing on the overall device. Applicant's remaining claims are rejected by virtue of their dependency.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 03/13/2007 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Applicant's only argument is that claims 1 and 6 of Kyogaku fail to recite or suggest that the step for providing the potential difference is conducted after the step for heating the polymer film as recited in the independent claims. Applicant then requested the Examiner to point out where in claims 1 and 6 of Kyogaku such features are recited.

The Examiner realizes that Kyogaku fails to recite the exact limitation, "the step for providing the potential difference is conducted after the step for heating the polymer film" verbatim, however to understand the specific order of Kyogaku's method, the grammar and logic of the entire claim must be considered. The Examiner directs Applicant's attention to steps A and B of Kyogaku, in which the same polymer film (i.e. "a polymer film" in step A; and "the polymer film" in step B) is recited to have been heated ("irradiated"). Step C is limiting "a film" (i.e. a film different from that of steps A and B) which was obtained by performing step B. The antecedent basis for this claim clearly shows the film in step C is different from the film in steps A and B. Therefore, the film in steps A and B must first be irradiated to then obtain the film in step C.

A specific order of steps is clearly recited by Kyogaku as a matter of logic and grammar, and the language of Kyogaku's method claims clearly impose a specific order on the performance of the method steps. See MPEP 2111.01(II),

Dependent claim 6 likewise supports the Examiner's above interpretation.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
